Upset over killer driver's jail cut

BY JO DEEKS

THE family of a grandfather killed by a woman who was driving after taking drugs have criticised the decision to cut her jail term.

Donald McCallum, 76, was knocked down just before Christmas in 2007 when he was on his way to visit his family in Haverhill.

He was going to see his great-granddaughter for the first time.

Helen Nunn, 41, was jailed for six years at Cambridge Crown Court after being convicted last December of causing Mr McCallum's death by dangerous driving when unfit through drugs.

Now her sentence has been reduced on appeal by a third, meaning she could be released in a year's time.

The sentence imposed by Judge Jonathan Haworth in January was slashed by two years by an appeal court judge, who said too much had been made of the drugs consumed.

Highlighting the fact the drugs were taken the day before, Mrs Justice Gloster reduced Nunn's sentence to four years – of which she will serve half in jail and half in the community on licence.

Mr McCullum's son Don, who still lives in Haverhill, said he was disappointed, but not

Top Newspaper Society role for Iliffe News and Media chief

DAVID Fordham, chief executive of Iliffe News and Media, is the new president of the Newspaper Society.

Mr Fordham, whose responsibilities with the Iliffe group include the Weekly News, took up the role yesterday and succeeds Michael Pelosi, managing director of Northcliffe Media, who has held the post for the past year.

A new NS president is elected from the membership every year in July and Georgina Harvey, Trinity Mirror Regionals managing director, has been appointed NS vice president.

Mr Fordham said: "The NS continues to have an important role representing local media and it is a pleasure to have been elected as its president for the coming year.

"Like all media, the industry is experiencing unprecedented challenges as a result of the recession but we have also seen that the need for independent, grassroots news has never been greater.

"Local newspapers must be allowed to continue to fight for the causes their readers believe in and to continue to develop into truly multi-media news organisations in the digital age."

Mr Fordham has been chief executive of Iliffe News and Media since 2003 and is a main board director of the publisher's owner, Yattendon Investment Trust.

He serves on the NS Council and is a member of the Marketing Committee and the Independent Publishers Forum.

Mr Fordham started his career in 1971, when he joined Cambridge Newspapers as a sales administration assistant, before going on to hold various posts at Emap and Archant (formerly Eastern Counties Newspapers). He was appointed chief executive of The Adscene Group in 1996, before returning to Yattendon organisation as managing director of Cambridge Newspapers three years later.

Mr Fordham is married with three children and his interests include golf, photography, cooking and theatre.

The NS, the voice of Britain's local media, represents 1,300 newspapers, 1,200 websites, 450 magazines, 250 ultra local titles, 45 radio stations and two TV stations.

New president:
David Fordham.

Store now one of biggest

JAZZ music welcomed shoppers to the re-opening of an extended supermarket store which is now one of the biggest operated by discount chain Aldi in the country.

Plenty of shoppers turned out to get a look at the revamped store in Lordscroft Lane, Haverhill, which is now 30 per cent bigger than it was, the second extension to the store since it opened in the early 1990s.

The store is only a stone's throw away from the former Station Yard site where a new Tesco store is nearing completion and due to open in the autumn.

Graham Hetherington,

South East regional managing director for Aldi, said the success of the store was down to a combination of customer loyalty and excellent staff, many of them having worked there for 10 years.

He said: "Haverhill is one of our top stores. We wanted to create a store that compares with Tesco's new store and the existing Sainsbury's.

"More and more customers are realising that you don't have to compromise on quality, you can save up to 30 per cent on prices by shopping at Aldi. We have just been voted Which supermarket of the year and the credit crunch has just enhanced our appeal. We want to open a new store a week so that we will have 1,500 in the foreseeable future. We will be taking on a small number of extra staff at Haverhill because we are expecting a substantial sales increase."

The winning ticket in a competition in the Weekly News for £250 worth of shopping at the store, drawn by town mayor Elaine McManus, was won by Gary Walton of Stockley Close, Haverhill. Readers Andrew Rashi and Phillip Wedd, both of Haverhill, won an earlier competition of a £125 Aldi shopping spree each.

'Significant' drug dealer sent to jail

A DRUG dealer who supplied Haverhill heroin addicts has been jailed for four years.

Ricky Preston, 44, was caught when police raided an address in Pentlow Hawke Close in Haverhill on the morning of September 24 last year.

Officers found wraps of heroin and a set of scales hidden inside a mattress and nearby was a roll of banknotes containing £275.

Robin Du Preez, prosecuting, told Ipswich Crown Court yesterday that while the police search was continuing, mobile phones lying on the mattress were ringing continuously.

In addition, two lists containing names of local drug users and the amounts they owed for drugs were found.

A police expert who examined the lists said they appeared to be a complete record of heroin users in Haverhill, totalling nearly 80.

The mobile phones were seized and examined and found to contain numerous text messages quoting well known slang terms for heroin.

When interviewed by police, Preston said he had been supplying a few friends in order to help finance his own drug habit.

He had since the raid stopped using heroin and was receiving treatment for his addiction.

Preston, of Bury Road, Great Thurlow, had pleaded guilty to possessing a class A drug with intent to supply and supplying a class A drug between September 10 and September 24 last year.

Neil Macaulay, defending, said that Preston had a substantial history of drug misuse.

Mr Macaulay said: "It is not going to be easy for somebody to break off that habit after that period of time. What Mr Preston needs is long term rehabilitation."

Preston had made significant efforts to resolve his own drug problem, and maintained that none of the dealing had been for commercial gain.

Sentencing Preston, Judge Peter Thompson said he regarded the offences to which he had pleaded guilty as "substantial" and taking into account his previous convictions for drug related offending, only immediate custody was appropriate.

Judge Thompson said the lists found by police clearly showed that Preston had been dealing well beyond the few friends he had admitted to supplying with heroin.

The judge said: "I conclude that you were a significant dealer in Haverhill."

Swine flu case confirmed at school in county

A CASE of swine flu has been confirmed at a Newmarket school.

But the school, St Louis Roman Catholic Primary School, in Fordham Road, is remaining open.

In a joint statement, Suffolk County Council and NHS Suffolk said they were working with the Health Protection Agency and monitoring the situation.

Teresa Selvey, head-teacher said: "The school's leadership team and governors will continue to monitor the situation and will keep parents informed if the situation should change."

It is understood that one pupil has been diagnosed with the H1N1 virus and there is a second pupil who is suspected of having it.

It is the first confirmed case of swine flu in Newmarket.

The HPA said there were another 14 cases diagnosed in the East region on Tuesday bringing the total number of cases in the region to 326.

Schools' pools closed as bacteria levels rise

BY LEANNE EHREN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

SOARING bacteria levels in school pools have led to children being unable to cool off in the sweltering heat this week.

Four swimming pools at schools were closed immediately, including Great Abington Primary, Linton CE Infant School, Linton Heights Junior School and Castle Camps CE Primary School, due to high levels of bacteria.

The schools were told stormy, humid weather and recent hot spells could be to blame for the higher bacteria levels in the pools.

Routine tests completed last week showed two of the schools, Linton Heights Junior and Castle Camps CE Primary, had only slightly above average bacteria levels, and they were able to reopen on Wednesday.

The other two schools, Linton CE Infant School and Great Abington Primary, had considerably more bacteria than was deemed safe.

A Cambridgeshire County Council spokesman said: "Affected schools are disappointed to have closed their pools but there was no other option as safety always comes first."

"The pools with very high levels of bacteria will reopen pending results on follow-up tests, likely to be on Monday."

The pools' chlorine levels are tested three times a day and the water is routinely tested once a month for bacteria levels.

The schools declined to speak to the Weekly News but the spokesman added: "As soon as the problem was identified the pools were closed."

"By taking immediate action it has been possible to keep the closures to the minimum."

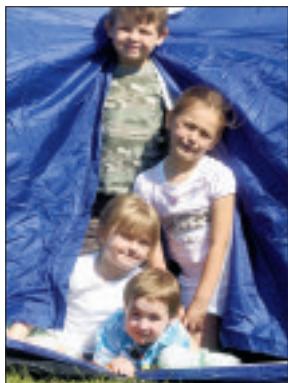

"As the weather is so hot it is an unfortunate time to have to close the pools and it will be good to see children enjoying the water again very soon."

In-tents learning experience

CHILDREN visited the four corners of the Earth without leaving their school grounds when tents were set up for an Around the World Day.

Around 60 foundation stage pupils at Westfield Primary School in Haverhill took their learning outdoors for the event. Tents were set up around the school field with learning activities for the children, including building a totem pole, learning a Spanish song, participating in Greek dancing, and learning about living in Poland and Benin. They also listened to stories from around the world, courtesy of Haverhill library, used the artist Miro's work for inspiration for their own art, looked at Australian artefacts and built a sandcastle at the seaside.

Headteacher Rosie Campbell said: "The children enjoyed getting their 'passports' stamped when they visited and learned about different countries. The successful day was thoroughly enjoyed by staff and children alike and the school would like to thank parents and helpers for their support."

Cutting jail term 'sends wrong message'

surprised by the reduction in Nunn's sentence. He had not gone to the appeal hearing, after sitting through six days at the trial when Nunn appeared to show no remorse for her crime.

His father had been planning to move back to Haverhill, after living in Bulgaria for more than a year. Previously, he had cared for his wife who suffered from Alzheimer's disease for seven years until her death.

Don McCullum said: "At the end of the day it won't bring my father back whatever they do to her, but I am disappointed. I think she should have served the full term. She could be out in a year and that does not seem much of a punishment for taking someone's life.

"Throughout the trial she did not seem to accept that she was not fit to drive, even though the amount of drugs she had taken could have killed a normal person. I think it sends out all the wrong messages, but that seem to be how the system works.

"It brought it all home to me again on Father's Day, and his death is still causing immense problems and because of the recession we cannot sell his flat in Bulgaria. He was on his way to visit all the family, including his great-granddaughter Kya, now one and a half, who he never got to see."

Nunn had taken a substantial amphetamine dose, up to five grams, 24 hours before she hit Mr McCullum on the A11, near Stumps Cross, Cambridge. He was on his way to visit his family when his vehicle struck a barrier near the A505 slip road. As he left his car to inspect the damage, he was struck by Nunn's Toyota Corolla.

At the appeal, Judge Gloster said Nunn, of Ditton Fields, Cambridge, was a woman of previous good character and her driving fell into the category of "momentary inattention".

The court heard how Mr McCullum's car had been effectively blocking one lane of the dual carriageway before the crash happened, but other motorists had seen the obstacle and managed to avoid a collision.

However, Nunn failed to spot Mr McCullum until it was too late, smashing into both the motorist and his car.

Nunn had a regular amphetamine habit at the time, and the drug was still infiltrating her system when tested after the accident.

The trial judge said a strong sentence was needed to send out a warning to those prepared to drive after consuming drugs – even if some time had elapsed since they had done so.

Mrs Justice Gloster said Nunn was clearly "mortified" by her actions and was now intent on remaining drugs-free.

Break-in at sports building

INTRUDERS broke into a sports club at Thurlow overnight after three suspicious people were seen in the area – but nothing was stolen.

The incident happened in Wrating Road, Thurlow, between 9pm on Sunday and 6.20pm on Monday.

The offenders broke into containers and a storage area at a sports club but nothing was taken.

Three suspicious men had earlier been seen in the area. The first is described as white, in his late teens to early 20s, 5ft 10in, with shoulder-length wavy hair.

The second is described as white, in his late teens to early 20s and 5ft 8in tall. There is no description of the third man. They left in a small car.

Golfers join annual drive for charity cash

GOLFERS teed off in the sunshine last Saturday for an annual charity golf tournament which has raised thousands of pounds for charity.

More than 30 teams took part in the Haverhill Charity Golf Classic, organised in association with the Weekly News, which was held at Haverhill Golf Club. Over the past decade the event has raised more than £100,000 for various charities, including helping to reach the £40,000 target for the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal earlier this year.

Fund-raising went on throughout the day, with competitions at various holes, followed by a meal afterwards, cabaret and a charity auction.

Haverhill Golf Club and Haverhill Rotary Club have joined forces to organise the event for the past four years and organisers hoped to match last year's total of £14,000. Proceeds from the event will be divided between the St Nicholas Hospice and the Rotaries Charity Fund, which distributes cash to local groups. Sponsors this year were MJ Pipe, Suffolk Insurance, Printwise and Chapman's.

Feud over girl led to damage

A FEUD between two families living 100 yards apart resulted in a man trying to kick down his neighbours' front door and damaging their car.

Shane Decruze, 18, admitted causing damage valued at £1,670 to a BMW owned by Nicholas Preston and causing £165 damage to a door at a house owned by Havebury Housing in Connaught Road, Haverhill, when he appeared at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates' Court on Tuesday.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Magistrates adjourned his case for sentence until July 21 so that reports could be prepared.

Sarah Jane Atkins, prosecuting, said the offences arose from a falling out when Decruze starting a relationship with a 14-year-old girl in the other family, which they had tried to stop.

In April this year Decruze's family received a harassment warning because of their behaviour towards the other family.

Police were called to their house in May after reports that Decruze had been kicking the front door to try and get in and that he had damaged Mr Preston's car, causing a dent in the bonnet and smashing two wing mirrors.

When interviewed by police Decruze had denied causing the damage and said he was not at home at the time.

Witnesses at the scene said they had heard Decruze trying to get one of the occupants of the house to come out and fight.

Decruze had previous convictions for similar offences.

Revamped leisure centre set to reopen

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

HAVERHILL'S revamped Abbeycroft Leisure Centre has all the latest equipment and will rival other facilities across the region, say centre bosses.

The eagerly awaited re-opening of Haverhill Leisure Centre following a multi-million-pound refurbishment will begin on Saturday, with a sports festival to give people a chance to try some of the range of activities on offer.

The festival will showcase clubs and sports providers from around South West Suffolk who will hold live demonstrations, plus free come-and-try sessions.

Matt Crawley, a community coach for Abbeycroft, said: 'The new leisure centre holds fantastic prospects and opportunities for everyone involved. It is a great time to display sport to the public and hopefully forge some solid sporting relationships for the future.'

The festival offers the chance to try gymnastics, martial arts, badminton, basketball and golf. It will take place from 10am-3pm, open to all ages, able-bodied or disabled, fit or unfit.

Leisure centre owner St Edmundsbury Borough Council has invested £5.2 million in a complete upgrade that has transformed the 37-year-old building, with new changing rooms, a fitness suite that is double the previous size, carpeting throughout and other new facilities.

As well as a complete technical overhaul, the refit has provided improved facilities and new state-of-the-art equipment.

Dominic Greenwood is the new general manager and around 30 new jobs have been created.

The first facilities to open will be the fitness suite, sports hall, squash courts, a new multi-purpose room, two of the three studios and a new combat and martial arts area.

The swimming pool is filled and will open as soon as the water comes up to temperature – check the leisure centre website (www.acleisure.com) or call (01440) 702548.

A completely new children's experience will open two weeks later on July 18, with the £650,000 Kids City play area, new cafeteria, party rooms and crèche.

The final stage, in mid August, will see the opening of a new health suite and spinning studio.

Warren Smythe, chief executive of Abbeycroft Leisure, operator of the centre, said: 'Haverhill residents are going to be delighted with their new leisure centre.'

'As well as the technical side of things, we have concentrated on all the little things that make a great customer experience.'

St Edmundsbury Borough Council cabinet member for culture and sport, Cllr Lynsey Alexander, said: 'Haverhill can be proud of this facility.'

Three illegal workers found

THREE Bangladeshi men have been caught working illegally at a restaurant in Haverhill.

UK Border Agency officers, acting on intelligence, visited the New Maharajah restaurant in the High Street last Wednesday.

They found two 32-year-old Bangladeshi men who did not have permission to work in the UK – one employed as a chef and another as a waiter – along with a 52-year-old Bangladeshi man who is believed to have been working as a kitchen hand, although he claimed he was just visiting friends at the restaurant.

The chef and the waiter were both identified as illegal entrants, while the 52-year-old had overstayed his visa.

The business was issued with an on-the-spot penalty notice for employing illegal workers and faces a fine of up to £30,000 if it cannot be proven that the correct right-to-work checks – such as asking for a passport or work permit – were carried out before the men were given jobs.

Guidance for employers on preventing illegal working can be found on the UK Border Agency website, www.ukba.homeoffice.gov.uk/employingmigrants or by calling the UK Border Agency Employers' Helpline on 0845 010 6677.

MEMORIES

■ THIS week's picture, taken from our archives, shows a cheque presentation from a local sports group. Do you recognise anyone in the picture or know what the event was? Do you know where and when it was taken? Which group is it?

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, showed a cake stall run by Haverhill's Hamlet Playgroup. It was taken in April, 1988. Reader Jan Ponting recognised the pictured and wrote in to share her memories. She said: "I am the first lady from the left with my then 3-year-old son Tim. I was the secretary of Hamlet Playgroup. I believe the year was 1988-89. The lady right in the centre was Ada Coe (the one in the black) who ran the playgroup for many, many years.

The lady on the right, with the little girl, is Janice Clouse, who I believe had been with the playgroup a lot longer than Ada. The little girl is Janice's daughter Suzanna.

"We are pictured outside Glasswells before the change. There was often a cake stall in that area in those days. "Lovely memories."

old-time musical entertainment.

Appearing in the arena on both days will be the Flying Fergies Tractor display team, with stunts, formations, manoeuvres and a fair helping of humour performed on classic Ferguson Tractors.

Refreshments will be available, as well as a beer tent, trade stands and a craft tent.

Admission is £6 for adults, £5 for OAPs and £2 for children. A family ticket (for two adults and up to three children) is £16. Car parking is free. On-site camping is £20 for the weekend.

Organiser Michael Pumfrey said: "As ever, we welcome anybody who feels they may be able to help with the event, either by sponsoring an engine, advertising in the programme, or helping on site."

For any inquiries, contact Michael Pumfrey on 07711 988332 or email mrpumfrey@tractionengines.com.

Full steam ahead for show

GIANT steam vehicles will be making their way to Horseshoe Heath Racecourse in August for the Thurlow Steam and Country Show.

The event will take place on Saturday, August 1, and Sunday August 2, and this year is the 30th event, once again being run with the support of the East Anglian Traction Engine Society, which has supported it from the start.

Opposition to expansion plan

BY SUZAN UZEL

Email: editorial@haverhillnews.co.uk

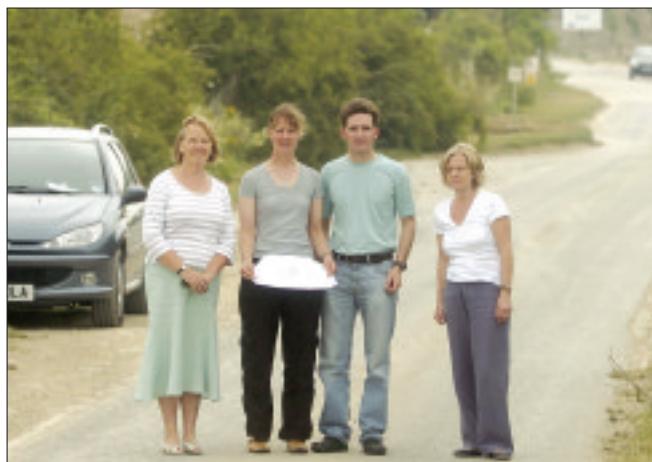

RESIDENTS living near a grain store which looks set to expand fear road safety will be compromised if plans are given the go-ahead.

A planning application has been submitted to extend the Camgrain site, on the south-east side of the A11 and some 600 metres away from the A11 Wilbraham interchange.

The proposals are to expand the existing site to increase the capacity for grain storage from 90,000 tonnes to 300,000 tonnes.

But Jayne and Alex Bateman, who live in Valley Farm Cottage, which lies in London Road adjacent to the Camgrain site, are fighting the proposals.

The plans were due to go before South Cambridgeshire District Council's planning committee and a decision is expected to be made on the matter on July 9.

Mrs Bateman said: "We are genuinely very concerned about the road safety implications.

"It is reprehensible that what is likely to be the largest grain storage depot is going to be served by a single track road [Mill Road between the grain store and the A11 junction].

"At peak flow this single track road will not be able to allow a steady flow of two-way traffic."

Her husband Dr Bateman said in a letter: "The only way sufficient traffic will flow is if stopped vehicles allow multiple vehicles to pass in the opposite direction. This will lead to a phenomenon known as platooning, where groups of HGVs join the A11 giving rise to a serious road hazard."

He also raised concerns about noise and light pollution and "a lack of foresight in allowing industrialisation of a most picturesque part of the Cambridgeshire landscape".

The only access road to the couple's 1950s cottage is shared with the Camgrain site and the chalk pit.

Three parish councils, Great Wilbraham, West Wrating and Weston Colville, also oppose the plans.

The planning statement includes a number of letters of support, including one from MEP Robert Sturdy who says the application represents a great step forward for the eastern region at a time when world stocks, agriculture and food security are under pressure.

Radiators are taken in raid

TEN radiators and a fireplace were among items stolen by thieves who broke into a disused property at Wickham Street, Denston, over a weekend. The theft happened between 9pm on Friday, June 19, and 7am on Monday, June 22, when the property was broken into by damaging a window. The radiators, piping and a fireplace and grating were stolen. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to PC Ruth Horton at the St Edmundsbury Rural South Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100.

Plans for side extension

A LISTED building application to build a two-storey side extension after demolishing an existing lean-to extension at Tally House, The Street, Stradishall, has been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council. The application is also to extend an existing garage to incorporate a two-bay cart lodge extension, build a new vehicular access and front porch.

Thieves walk off with trainers

THIEVES gained entry to a house through an insecure door at Boxford Court, Haverhill, between 12.30am and 6.30am on Wednesday, June 24, and stole a pair of trainers, a wallet, keys and food. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to PC Matthew Dale at Haverhill CID on (01284) 774100.

Bike stolen from back garden

A MAN'S blue and yellow Carrera Kraken mountain bike was stolen from the back garden of a house in Abercorn Court, Haverhill, between 10pm last Thursday, and 10am on Friday. Call PC Chris Reynolds at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 with information.

Car park fee to rise at hospital

PATIENTS and visitors will have to pay an extra 10p to park at West Suffolk Hospital for any length stay during the day.

A range of measures will also be introduced to relieve pressure on spaces by encouraging alternative means of transport.

An additional staff member will be employed to help traffic flow at the busiest times and a travel plan will be drawn up to look at alternative forms of transport in the future.

As part of an annual review, CCTV cameras will be added at the front of the hospital to improve security, while the possibility of introducing car share permits for staff will also be investigated.

Pupils give Spring a soaking

AN MP had some help keeping cool on Saturday when he got a soaking at a school's sponge stall.

Richard Spring and one of the school's dinner ladies agreed to be the victims at the stall, which was one of the main attractions at Kedington Primary School's invitation was an unusual one as they had invited me to visit the 'Sponge the Dinner Lady and MP' stall. It proved to be quite an attraction.

The head, Darren Woodward, and the school's PTFA, are working hard towards raising money for the outdoor learning area and have already raised £2,000 since February. I was pleased to help in whatever small way I could."

Charity ride duo raise £1,600

TWO friends who completed a John O'Groats to Lands End cycle trip together have raised £1,600 so far for a cancer charity.

Peter Bailey, 50, and Neil Huckle, 43, had trained with a coast-to-coast ride across Britain before leaving at the end of May on their 1,200-mile sponsored ride in aid of Macmillan Cancer. The ride took them 18 days to complete and left them a little saddle-sore but having enjoyed some beautiful countryside along the way.

Peter, of Henderson Close, Haverhill, and Neil, of Chapel Street, Steeple

Bumpstead, met because their wives run marathons together and Peter also ran the London Marathon for Macmillan in 2000.

Details of the trip and photos can be seen on www.mybumbsnumb.com and they are still accepting sponsorship money and donations.

people visiting for up to 20 minutes.

Chris Bown, trust chief executive, said: "We appreciate that some people view car parking charges as a cause of concern. As a result, VINCI have taken the current financial climate into consideration to make sure the maximum increase is no more than 10p a day.

"We will also continue to provide free drop-off points and information about the discounts offered to frequent visitors or those with special circumstances through our car parking leaflets, both of which have proved extremely popular since their introduction last year.

"We are keen to encourage people to explore alternative modes of transport as the amount of parking available at the hospital is limited due to the layout of the site."

Bigger, better show for all

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

BIG crowds are expected to flock to Haverhill's recreation ground this weekend for a town's biggest event of the year.

The Haverhill Show, organised in association with the Weekly News, takes place at the ground, in Camps Road, on Saturday and Sunday. The show is the main fundraiser for LAMPH, the Haverhill-based charity for children and adults with disabilities.

The organising committee consists of five people and more helpers are needed to turn up on the day to offer their services.

Mick Driver, chairman of the show committee, said: "It is a bit of a struggle with just five of us, but we want to keep the show going for the town, although we desperately need more help and some new blood on the committee.

"We have all the usual attractions on offer this weekend and we hope people will come out and enjoy themselves."

There will be car boot sales on Saturday and Sunday and the Sunday show will be launched by a Methodist Church service at 10am on the bandstand.

Main arena events will include displays by Colette's Dance School at 11am and 12.30pm, cars, motorbikes and scooters parading at 11.30am, Dell's School of Dance display at 2.30pm, karate at 1.30pm and at 3pm, glamorous granny, knobblly knees and fancy dress competitions.

The baby show will start at 11am and the dog show at 11.30am.

There will be many more stalls, side-shows and attractions to enjoy.

Anyone wanting to take part or help can ring (01440) 763272 or 07917 121855.

New recruit: "gifted dog" Kaiser.

Police sniff out new recruits

SUFFOLK police are looking for new recruits of the four-legged variety.

The force's dog section is appealing for the public to get in touch if they have a dog which may be suitable to become a police dog. Known as "gift dogs", they are donated by owners who may find their circumstances have changed, or if the dog is too boisterous to remain as a family pet.

Sgt Mick Hart, from the dogs section, said: "We have 10 general purpose police dogs and eight were gifted to us and have become extremely important members of the team.

"Two of our dogs are due to retire this autumn and we'd like to hear from anyone who may have a German shepherd or German shepherd cross which may be suitable. We're looking for dogs between one to two years old, which are showing a natural aptitude for work – perhaps they love to play, are extremely energetic and enthusiastic and curious."

Vital oasis for cancer patients survives purely on donations

WHEN you step through the doors of Wallace Cancer Care, it doesn't seem like a place where people are wrestling with disease at the lowest points in their lives.

At the Cambridge charity's centre in Red Cross Lane, near Addenbrooke's, I'm given a friendly welcome into what looks like a comfortable home. I'm then ushered upstairs into a light, airy lounge with a view over a garden.

There, I'm introduced to some of the staff and volunteers, as well as cancer patients who visit the centre and their families.

The patients tell me about how they have been supported through chemotherapy and radiotherapy treatment by Wallace Cancer Care's wide range of free classes and treatments.

Among those are relaxation groups, nutrition talks giving practical advice on diet, complementary therapies such as aromatherapy and massage to tackle stress, special support groups for men, teenagers and women in their 20s, 30s and 40s, and one-to-one counselling sessions for people in distress.

An estimated 10,000 people have used those services since Wallace Cancer Care opened its first centre in 2004.

"Just after having a baby, I thought my world had come to an end," she says.

But Bridget is now happy and well after coming through treatment at Addenbrooke's and finding support at Wallace Cancer Care.

She tells me that visiting the centre "just took me away from everything that was going on, from all the treatment, for an hour or so."

Of particular help to her was a talk from a dietitian where she met other younger women going through similar experiences.

"People greet you with a cup of tea and you sit here and relax," she says. "It is just a brilliant environment to take your mind off things."

BrIDGET HITS on a key word that comes up again and again in conversations with staff, volunteers and patients – tea. The kettle is always on, they tell me.

Wallace Cancer Care could be making tea with magical properties, or possibly serving up the most delicious cuppa in East Anglia.

More likely that tea, the ultimate comfort drink, is symbolic of something deeper. From talking to patients, I get the impression that the staff and volunteers are offering comfort, relaxation and kindness.

Wallace Cancer Care is named after Mary Wallace, a nurse and cancer sufferer who highlighted to the Friends of Addenbrooke's the need to support cancer patients.

The charity is based at two sites. The drop-in centre on the Addenbrooke's site is staffed by two oncology nurses and by volunteers, who run a cocktail trolley for patients on the oncology ward, D9.

On top of that, there is the peaceful off-site centre in Red Cross Lane, a few minutes' walk from the Addenbrooke's oncology department.

Outpatients can visit during the long waits in their treatment, along with their families, safe in the knowledge that their bleepers will summon them back if needed.

That combination of clinical care and more wide-ranging support was a big help to Sheena Almqvist, an occupational therapist from Cambridge. Sheena, 45, was diagnosed with breast cancer in September 2007.

"Addenbrooke's is fantastic from a treatment point of view," she says. "We couldn't have a better hospital. But it is all the extra bits they do not have time to do deal with. The thing is you need other people, people who are perhaps one stage ahead in treatment and can give you the benefit of their experience."

Emotional support is another key element of what the charity provides.

"There are some things you perhaps don't want to talk about with your family," says Sheena. "It needs to be someone who is in a similar state who would perhaps help your anxiety."

And Sheena found she relied on Wallace Cancer Care, which she describes as "a little oasis of calm", even after her treatment finished. "When you finish treatment it is almost like the whole focus of your life has gone. Individuals around you have moved on and changed, and the whole process has made you a different person."

"Here, they help you come to terms with everything to do with your treatment and how you cope with the diagnosis. The diagnosis doesn't go away just because you have finished treatment."

That glowing response is echoed by Mike Vogel, 62, who first came to the centre while going through radiotherapy for prostate cancer.

"The first thing I realised when I came into the main room was how completely great it was at creating a feeling of relaxation," he says.

"The people here are not only extremely knowledgeable in what they do, they are absolutely lovely people."

"Everything is so focused on relieving stress and anxiety. They really do care about you."

Most of the people I meet at Wallace Cancer Care are women, but Mike believes men benefit just as much. "A lot of men might be put off, thinking it doesn't seem macho enough. They don't know what they're missing."

Some people might be suspicious of the worth of the complementary therapies offered by Wallace Cancer Care.

Mike, however, would

New art gallery on the cards

CHANGE of use of the front room of a house from residential to art gallery at Well House, Well Lane, Clare, is the subject of a planning application to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

Extra cash: the WASH Sailability scheme will be launched by Kevin Curtis, who won a gold medal in the Atlanta Paralympics. CP

Sailing scheme set for launch

A SCHEME to help people with disabilities experience the joys of sailing will be launched next month after receiving a funding boost of more than £17,000.

The WASH Sailability scheme, set up by a Haverhill-based committee, will be launched at Lackford Lakes, near Great Barton, on August 20 by Kevin Curtis, who won a gold medal in the 1996 Atlanta Paralympics for sailing.

An £8,400 Lottery Awards for All grant was received by the committee, as well as £8,403 from St Edmundsbury Borough Council and £500 from Haverhill Round Table. Eric Bratt, chairman of WASH Sailability, has been working for more than four years with Michael Simpkin, of the Haverhill Association of Voluntary Organisations, to set up the scheme because nothing like it was available in this area. The scheme has already received funding from different councils and charitable groups and the extra cash will be used to extend the platforms and provide ropeways to enable those in wheelchairs to get to the boats and, if necessary, be winched aboard.

To find out more about the scheme ring (01440) 714641, email havo@dsl.pipex.com or visit the HAVO website www.havo.org.uk

Forum volunteers lead the charge for tenants

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

TWO Haverhill women have been speaking up for tenants of Havebury Housing.

Members of Havebury Tenants' Forum had their say at the group's AGM by electing a new chairman and vice-chairman to lead them forward over the next year.

Sandy Norris, vice-chairman for the past two years, won the vote for the chairman's seat by a clear majority, with Muriel Healey, Havebury's life president, being voted in as vice-chairman. The pair, both from Haverhill, were delighted with the results.

Ms Norris said: "The strength and unity the forum has shown over this past year proves that together we can really make a difference and that our voice is heard.

"The more tenants that get involved with Havebury the stronger this voice will become, and it's the responsibility of the forum to encourage all Havebury residents to share their views."

Ms Norris also thanked each member of the forum for volunteering their time during the year, particularly Roger Bolton, the outgoing chairman, for his leadership of the group for his third consecutive year.

Anyone who would like to be involved in the Havebury Tenants' Forum can call Ellie Darling on (01284) 722033 for more information.

On board: Muriel Healey, vice-chairman and Sandy Norris, new chairman, of Havebury Tenants' Forum.

MP's good news for shop owners

HAVERHILL'S MP got out his sandwich board as he pledged to fight for the future of newsagents in the town.

Richard Spring made the commitment after it was revealed that traditional newsagents are being forced to shut up shop at a rate of more than one a day.

Developments in the news distribution industry have left most newsagents with no choice over who supplies them.

Shop owners fear that the lack of competition will leave them with no alternative supplier and vulnerable to increased costs.

Last week almost 800 newsagents delivered a petition to the Office of Fair Trading demanding urgent action to protect competition.

Mr Spring said: "Traditional newsagents are the backbone of our community.

"They deliver a vital service and are a friendly face that many people rely on every day.

"It is shocking and unacceptable that so many newsagents face an uphill struggle to survive. I am happy to pledge my support to newsagents in West Suffolk and across the UK."

Duo's raid on garage

CIGARETTES and alcohol were stolen by thieves who smashed their way into a garage shop in the early hours of Wednesday, June 17. The break-in happened at the Jet Garage in Manor Road, Haverhill, at around 3.35am when two white men got out of a red hatchback car and smashed the window to get into the shop and steal items from inside.

One man is described as having short, dark hair, wearing a cream long sleeved top, blue trousers and gloves. The second was wearing blue jeans, a white long sleeved top with a grey T-shirt over the top, light coloured shoes and gloves. The alarm at the garage went off and the car sped off in the direction of Sturmer Arches. Anyone with information about the incident should contact Pc Jonathan Chapman at Haverhill Police Station on (01284) 774100.

Toddle on to help fund care for children

Ready to walk: 20-month-old Elena, daughter of Big Toddle organiser Carrie Webb, will be among those taking part in the event this weekend.

BABIES and tiny tots are needed to join in a Barnardo's Big Toddle event.

Organisers would like to see as many under-5s as possible join in the event at East Town Park, Couplands Road, in Haverhill, on Saturday from 11am.

The toddle will raise money for Barnardo's Early Years work with disadvantaged and vulnerable under-5s in local projects throughout the UK. This includes services for children with disabilities, young carers, and mums and dads who need support to help their children.

Organiser Carrie Webb said: "Meeting at the main visitor centre entrance at 11am, we aim to do a short walk or buggy push with our little ones around the park before returning to the starting point, where certificates and medals will be awarded to the children who have taken part.

"Phillippa Lawson, from Tiny Talk baby signing, has kindly volunteered to do a little sing-along with the children too."

"For those that want to stay longer we are planning on having a teddy bears' picnic in the picnic area near the visitors' centre, so bring your lunch and teddy along too."

For more details about the Big Toddle, to register for the walk or to download a sponsorship form, go to www.bigtoddle.co.uk

Sponsor forms and money can be brought along on Saturday, or a small donation can be made on the day to the Big Toddle.

Purple will be the theme of the day and participants are invited to wear purple clothing.

WIN TICKETS TO SEE ICE AGE 3

To celebrate the launch today of Ice Age 3: Dawn of the Dinosaurs, the Weekly News, Haverhill Cineworld and 21st Century Fox have teamed up to give you the chance to win 10 family passes (two adults and two children) to see the new smash hit movie of the summer. The winners will also receive a double DVD set of Ice Age 1 and 2, plus a Cineworld goody bag.

There are also five double passes to give away, plus 30 Cineworld goody bags up for grabs.

After surviving the big freeze and a glacial meltdown, Manny (Ray Romano) faces his biggest challenge yet as he prepares for parenthood with his girlfriend Ellie (Queen Latifah). Not wishing to be left out, Sid (John Leguizamo) decides to construct a dysfunctional family of his own by stealing a collection of eggs. Problem is, the eggs belong to a bunch of very large and very angry dinosaurs living in a strange underground world beneath the ice. With Sid in danger, Manny, Ellie and Diego (Denis Leary) team up with one-eyed weasel Buck (Simon Pegg) and venture deep into dino territory to save their friend from the carnivorous creatures. Meanwhile, things are looking up for sabre-toothed squirrel Scrat.

Still searching for that ever-elusive acorn, romance begins to blossom with the arrival of a female squirrel named Scratte.

To be in the running to win the prizes, simply answer this question:

Who plays the voice of Buck in Ice Age 3: Dawn of the Dinosaurs?

Send your answer to: Ice Age 3 Competition, Haverhill Weekly News, PO Box 268, Cambridge, CB24 6HF, or email competitions@cambridge-news.co.uk with 'Ice Age 3' in the subject line. Along with the answer, please include your name, address and contact telephone number.

Entries must arrive no later than Friday, July 11, 2009.

Usual Weekly News rules apply.

Limehouse to pay tribute to rock star

BACK by demand, Limehouse Lizzy, the tribute band to Thin Lizzy, return to the Haverhill Arts Centre tomorrow at 8pm.

They'll be keeping alive the great rock music left by Philip Lynott as part of their Spirit of the Black Rose Tour. Rock on from 8pm.

■ If you've ever fancied the Edinburgh Fringe, but were put off by a long trek up to Scotland never fear – Haverhill is the new Edinburgh. Jon Richardson will be at the arts centre on Saturday and Shappi Khorsandi will be appearing on Saturday, July 11 at 8pm. Don't miss this chance to get a sneak-peek of two brilliant comedians' brand new Edinburgh material. Tickets are £10 for each show or £15 for both nights.

Stand by your Van for Hotbed festival

BY EDWARD RIGG

NO argument about the hottest ticket in town this week, as Cambridge's annual new writing festival gets under way.

Hotbed 2009 boasts an impressive 10-day programme of new works, including one-act plays, experimental pieces, site specific theatre, rehearsed readings, guest productions, new writing competitions and workshops and discussions led by national and international artists.

The centrepiece of the festival – now in its fifth year – is Anna Reynolds' Stand By Your Van, a "zeitgeist-driven competition play," inspired by the extraordinary lengths contestants (in America, of course) will go to win a pick-up – by being the last person standing with their hands still touching a stationary vehicle.

This ground-breaking promenade piece allows the audience to wander round Touch of genius: Stand By Your Van.

the main prop – a £25,000 truck – and interact with the 12 'contestants' as they cling on to it in increasing desperation.

Other highlights include Flick to Kick, which uses the lessons of Subbuteo for the basis of a new drama; Four For Jericho, Cambridge writer Richard Fredman's investigation of the ongoing Middle East crisis, and a dramatisation of murdered Russian journalist Anna Politkovskaya's writings in Fraser Grace's Events from a Forgotten War.

"The festival runs the gamut in terms of new writing," promises Patrick Morris, associate director of Menagerie Theatre Company, which is co-producing the festival with The Junction. "It is an eclectic celebration of the best new writing, and the many different things it can be."

Students from Anglia Ruskin University and Parkside Federation will be performing their own work, and the legendary One-Page-Play-Competition-Athon will once again give anyone the chance to get involved by submitting a one page play on the theme of 'competition'.

Over five nights the audience will vote for their favourite plays, which will be put through to a Grand Final, the winner receiving £250 to donate to the charity of their choice.

The festival will also bring in experts in the field to lead various workshops and discussions.

■ Hotbed Festival at The Junction runs until Saturday. Tickets £4–£15. Contact (01223) 51151, www.junction.co.uk or www.hotbedfestival.co.uk

Sell your property
the CXG way...

The simple alternative

- Pay no Estate Agent's fees
- Pay no Legal fees
- No further mortgage payments
- Have cash within days
(Instead of months)

Why sell the traditional way?

Get Estate Agents to value it and put it on the market.

Show people around the property
(mostly "nosy parkers" & sightseers).

If no offers received after 2 or 3 months, reduce price.

Show more people around.

Eventually accept an offer at between 5 & 10% off the advertised price.

Hope the sale doesn't fall through (over 30% of sales don't reach completion).

Once price agreed, wait a further 3 months for sale to complete.

Work out how many £000s it has cost you in reducing the price, making mortgage payments, paying Estate Agents fees and legal fees since you started the process (on average, 7 months ago...)

Saab sale set for Saturday

MOST of us will know that July 4 is American Independence Day.

Following on with the theme of independence, Saab has recently broken away from General Motors and is about to be purchased by independent Swedish sports car maker Koenigsegg which has an enormous amount of reliable financial backing. This has to be great news for Saab which now has the financial clout to bring exciting new models moving forward into the future.

This Saturday's sale promises to be the best yet with fantastic opportunities to save a substantial sum off the list price of a brand new Saab. What's more, these exciting exceptional deals are available right across the whole of Saab's exquisite model range.

Museum of Top Gear!

THE World of Top Gear Exhibition opened its doors at the National Motor Museum on June 19.

The new exhibition at Beaulieu in the New Forest features a collection of the actual cars created by presenters Jeremy Clarkson, Richard Hammond and James May for some of their most ambitious challenges on the TV show over the years.

Fans of the show will be familiar with challenges such as their attempt to cross the Channel with their homemade car/boats, and the Stretched Limo Challenge, where they set out to turn rusty second-hand cars into luxury stretch limos, and chauffeur three celebs to the BRIT Awards.

Visitors will also experience the Top Gear 'Enormodrome' which aims to recreate the feel of the Top Gear studio, where the TV show is filmed in front of a live audience.

"We are delighted with the response that it has received from Top Gear fans," said Stephen Munn, commercial director at the National Motor Museum.

"It's fantastic that Beaulieu are preserving for posterity so many of the cars Jeremy, Richard and James have built for the show," said Adam Waddell, managing director of Top Gear, BBC Worldwide.

Showcase: Top Gear.

Electric car era is closer

GREEN technology bosses have won a multi-million pound grant to build a futuristic fleet of electric cars.

Government business innovation body the Technology Strategy Board awarded the North East consortium of academics and vehicle manufacturers £3.9 million to help speed the introduction of viable electric passenger vehicles on the region's roads.

The consortium of Nissan, Smith Electric Vehicles in partnership with LTI and Ford, AVID Vehicles, Liberty Electric Cars, Newcastle University and One North East, was one of eight winners from across the country of the Government's Ultra Low Carbon Vehicle Demonstrator competition.

The Mitsubishi i MiEV: 25 of these cars will be introduced on to Coventry and Birmingham's streets later this year as part of a nationwide electric vehicle trial.

Green technology gets council go-ahead

It will see an initial 35 passenger vehicles developed and trialled in the region.

The performance and use of the vehicles, which include 15 Nissan cars, 10 Smith electric taxis, five Smith people carriers, a Smith executive minibus, two AVID saloon cars and two Liberty urban Range Rovers, alongside a network of charging points, will be monitored by Newcastle University's Transport Operations Research Group.

The consortium will be trialling the vehicles technically, observing how they influence travel patterns and how people use them in the region, alongside an extensive education and awareness-raising campaign.

Technology Strategy Board head of innovation platforms Heidi Lovelock said the consortium was part of the world's largest co-ordinated electric vehicle trial.

She said: "What we may find as we look to the future is increasing use in cities of electric vehicles to reduce pollution and reduce congestion.

"We need to break down some of the preconceptions about the ownership and use of electric vehicles.

"We might – I'm not saying we will – but we might end up seeing a city owning a fleet of electric vehicles that everybody uses for commuting whereas things like hybrids or improved versions of diesel or petrol engines might be used by people for longer journeys.

"People often criticise electric vehicles in the sense that they have a fairly short range still in terms of travel before you have to charge up, but we need to remember that 93 per cent of our journeys in the UK are actually shorter than 25 miles and that accounts for 62 per cent of our carbon emissions.

"So if we can even just replace the shorter journeys with electric vehicles we will have achieved quite a lot."

Chris Pywell, head of strategic economic change at One North East, said the Technology Strategy Board announcement was a historic moment for the UK.

He said: "This is the first time that electric vehicles are to be taken seriously as a credible alternative to the internal combustion engine on a national and international scale.

The first vehicle is expected to be a Smith executive minibus with the first trials centred in Newcastle and Gateshead, where the first charging points are being installed. The trials will then be moved to the Tees Valley area and then the wider North East region.

Sian Reid, executive councillor for climate change and growth, commented: "We're extremely keen on electric vehicles. We have set aside a budget for electric vehicle charging points in multi-storey car parks across the city for later this year. We would also like to see on-street electric charging points around the city."

■ More than a third (39 per cent) of motorists (39 per cent) would buy a hybrid or an electric model if they had to buy a new car.

The poll revealed that British motorists would prefer a hybrid car: exactly a third of respondents (33 per cent) would opt for it in comparison to the six per cent who would prefer to get behind the wheel of an electric car.

GOLF

Semi-final berth for Haverhill

HAVERHILL GC eased into the semi-finals of the Tolly Cobbold Cup on Sunday at the expense of Fletton.

The winning margin was a decisive 19 holes, which comprised of a further 13 added to the lunchtime lead of six.

On an ideal day for golf, despite the heat, the Haverhill team systematically navigated the Fletton nine-hole course, setting themselves up for the next match against Thorpeness, who defeated Fletton Valley in their quarter-final meeting. This game will be on Sunday, July 26, on neutral ground.

■ The junior Spring Cup was a split event, with the lower handicappers playing a medal round and the higher a stableford.

There were some interesting scores returned, as Tom Marsh took the lower group with a 61 from runner-up Christopher Vince, who was one further back.

Lewis Whiting was the runner-up in the stableford, beating Ellis Brown on countback, but their 41 points was no match for Michael Perrett's 53.

■ Haverhill Ladies' match against Gosfield was drawn, while the seniors lost at Bourn by 5½ to 2½.

■ The results of the IFF Challenge round were:

Division One: D Harkness 65; L Chandler, M Warren 67; P Houchen 68; A Fish, C Vince 69; A Bareham, P Oakley 70; P Gardiner 71; T Marsh, A Carter, E Bareham, E Fairhead 73; P Garner, P McLennan 74; J Walker 75; D Cornelius, M Stanton, S King 76; S Nichols 77; A Gelder 78;

■ Today (Thursday), Haverhill's seniors play at home to current champions Diss in the Parks Trophy, which is a county inter-club matchplay event.

The reward for the winners will be a place in the semi-finals.

NETBALL

Franklin on target as goals pile up in convincing win

HAVERHILL A ran out comfortable 32-7 winners over Jubilee in their penultimate East Suffolk League, Division Two match. Going into the game with a clean record, Haverhill soon got into their stride with some outstanding shooting from player-of-the-match Natalie Franklin.

With a comfortable lead and the opposition on the back foot Haverhill were able to dictate the speed of play.

Jade Killingback and Kelly Tharby defended superbly to prevent Jubilee from having too many efforts on goal, while the ball was brought confidently up the court by Fiona Micklewright, Dannielle Ledwith and Amanda Stokes for the shooters to wreak havoc.

■ Despite being pipped 21-19 by table-topping Breckland A, Haverhill B played their best Division Three match of the season. It was 4-4 by the end of the first quarter with joint player-of-the-match Leanne Tilly outstanding in the Haverhill defence, well backed up by Jodie Teather.

Haverhill managed to move three goals up with some superb movement around centre court between Sadie Rogers, Sharne Lester and Leanne Miller. This allowed Michelle Iron and joint player of match Nina O'Reilly to score some outstanding goals.

However, the last quarter saw Breckland pull back to overhaul Haverhill and win by two goals in a thrilling climax.

Dellar on form, but 'Hill falter

SKIPPER Adam Dellar's knock of 93 was not enough as Haverhill slumped to a 129-run defeat at East Bergholt in Division Two of the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship.

The hosts took advantage of a short boundary to rack up a formidable total of 361 for 4 despite Stuart Ketteridge taking 3 for 60.

Meddle claimed 4 for 35 and Scruby 4 for 27 as Walden were all out for 131. Jamie Ring was Walden's top scorer with 33.

■ John Barnes and Jack Squire led the charge as Balsham recorded a 90-run CCA Senior League, Division One triumph at home to Horseheath.

The hosts' skipper Mick Housden won the toss and saw Barnes dominate the away side's bowling attack and muster a fine 101.

Luke Stanley was Balsham's second highest scorer with 16 in their total of 198 for 7, while Horseheath captain Gary Ellis snared 3 for 35.

Dan Goldsmith (30) attempted to keep the visitors in the hunt with the bat, but Squire excelled with the ball and claimed 6 for 44 as they were dismissed for 108.

Losing skipper Ellis said: "If we'd got Barnes out early then we probably would have won.

"We beat his bat half a dozen times in the first few overs, but he went on to bat superbly."

■ Martin Buckner (60 not out) and Adam Basham (26 not out) put on 95 in the last 11 overs as Thurlow beat Eversden by four wickets with three balls to spare in Division 1B of the Cricket Stick CCA Junior League.

SWIMMING

Biller's in the dark over her world bid

STEFANIE Biller will have to play the waiting game to discover how many events she will compete in at the forthcoming World Open Water Championships in Rome. The Haverhill-based swimmer booked her place in the German squad for the women's 10km following national trials, finishing runner-up to Angela Maurer by just five seconds in a time of 2hr 1min 36sec.

But she will have to bite her nails until Monday to find out if she will get a world spot over her preferred distance of 25km amid controversy over the qualification process.

Biller, who swims for West Suffolk, this week took part in the latest round of the Marathon Swimming World Cup in Portugal as preparation for her assault on the 10km at the world championships.

And coach Alan Bircher said he was thrilled she had qualified, despite the shorter distance being her weaker discipline.

He said: "She went there with this in mind as a bonus, but come 2012, because it's the Olympic event, that's the one she'll be wanting to aim for then.

"Steffi was leading with 300 metres to go, but Angela is tactically sound and came through at the end."

But Biller's hopes of competing in the 25km hang in the balance after the trial was called off because of protests over the temperature of the water being too cold.

It was agreed to hold a 15km race instead as part of the German Championships, with Lady in waiting: Haverhill-based Stefanie Biller, who is still uncertain over how many events she will be contesting at the forthcoming world championships.

Biller taking gold in a time of 3hr 12min 22sec, almost 18 minutes clear of runner-up Franziska Jordan.

However, both Maurer, who finished fourth at the Olympics, and regular rival Britta Kamrau withdrew from the competition and it is now in the hands of the national selectors to choose their two entrants.

Bircher said: "Steffi actually raced with the men and finished second overall behind a guy who was world open water champion a few years ago.

"But there's a bit of politics involved and we're pretty certain they'll give it to Angela and Britta."
